

PSSST. WE DON'T LIKE THOSE CALLS, EITHER.

We Business Leaders Call for an End to the Campaign Money Chase. Let's Pass H.R. 1826 and S.752: The Fair Elections Now Act.

We are on the receiving end of Senators' and Representatives' endless fund-raising calls. And trust us: we hate getting those calls every bit as much as they hate making them.

Each hour in 2008, campaigners for federal office got on the horn and raised $600,000. That's $14 million each day, $100 million each week, $5 billion for the year!

Elected officials spend so much time dialing for dollars it's as if they're moonlighting a second job. With the economy, health care, energy and so many other issues at stake, who has time for that?

So let's terminate this mutually wasteful, degrading process. Let's pass the Fair Elections Now Act.

Fair Elections candidates agree not to take contributions of more than $100 from anyone. Not lobbyists, not special interests, not their PACs. In return for swearing off high-dollar fund-raising, they receive ample public funding to run a vigorous campaign.

The American people wholeheartedly support Fair Elections. So do we. Let's get it done.
